Problematic Assumptions in History from an Orthodox Christian Perspective (Fr. Nikolai)

- Rome fell in... Rome was sacked many times in the 4th and 5th century, but the city never fell.
- There has never been an Empire called Byzantine.
- The Dark Ages never happened.
- The idea that during the Middle Ages much Greek literature and philosophy had been lost. It was never lost in the East, Aquinas read Aristotle in the 13th century.
- The Age of Enlightenment did not enlighten the soul.
- There is no Golden age to restore
- There is no Utopian age to come in this life.
